Class is Entertained.

The Senior class of the Lumberport high school was entertained by Misses Gertrude and Georgia Robinson at their home at Locust Grove farm Wednesday evening. The invitations read as follows:

"Come here at eight.
Prepared to relate
A story of Senior rights,
And we'll all be jolly,
With just bits of folly
Till time to put out the lights."

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Britton, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Hornor, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Richardson, Misses Ruth Hickman, Mabel Robey, Willis Robinson, Messrs. Weymann Robinson, Neals Hedges, John Hedges, Golden Hedges, Riker Sleeth and Clyde Hertzog.

The color scheme for the evening was effectively carried out in the class colors of old gold and purple. The dining room was artistically festooned with ribbon and crepe paper in the midst of which was an elaborate class pennant for 1916. The centerpiece for the table was a unique affair of violets ferns and marguerites in the center of which were carnations, the class flower. Music and games were the diversions of the evening and a delicious luncheon was served at 10:30 in which the color scheme was again daintily shown. The menu consisted of chicken sandwiches, olives, pickles, ice cream, cake, coffee and mints.

STRONG PATRIOTIC PLATFORM PLANKS

Strong planks favoring Americanism, military preparedness and a protective tariff for the protection of American industries, it is said, will be among the important subjects considered by those who are drafting the platform.

The plank on Americanism and military preparedness, it is said, will be sufficiently strong to meet every reasonable demand of Progressive Republicans.
